ABOUT ME

Arina (born Katharina Weiß on February 18, 1993) is an Austrian singer and songwriter. Arina was a member of one of the most successful bands in the German-speaking area, and appeared on many TV shows. After a difficult decision to leave the band, she is now pursuing her dream of a solo career, and is finally living her true passion to make a name for herself as an English-speaking pop musician.

Her first single "Better Now" achieved over 250k streams within a few months. "I want to show the whole world that it's worth it to fight for your dreams to make them come true", Arina says.

With "Come Over" she took her young solo career one step further and gained attention on Austrian and German radio for the first time. "I always wanted to hear my own song on the radio and that's what happened! Its amazing!"

She achieved another milestone with her current pop RnB single "Queen". The song climbed to the top of the iTunes' charts and reached #1.

At the end of 2022, Arina's first EP "A+" was released with authentic stories from her life.
